A THOUGHT

Ask and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you.—Matthew 7:7.

OURSELVES are easily provided for; it is nothing but the circumstantialities of life that cost so much.—Alexander Pope.

It is said that even the government of Mexico is showing interest in the Herrin massacre and has asked this government for an explanation of the deaths of two Mexicans in the riot. The explanation given will not be of the kind that explains unless the Illinois authorities proceed to do more than has been done in the Herrin case.

An East St. Louis federal judge has vehemently scored sheriffs and state's attorneys of three southern Illinois counties because of flagrant law violations there. Officials in these counties are seemingly powerless or without the desire to take any action to put an end to wrong doing in the counties supposedly under their jurisdiction.

Complaints are being made vigorously about the misuse of the hard road south of Springfield. There is said to be so much speeding there that the average auto traveler has a difficult and dangerous time.

There is a like situation on other stretches of hard road in the state and the conditions will increase as the hard road system is extended. Patrolling of these highways must come by either state constabulary or by other officials with the power to regulate traffic.

One thing is certain, the public would like to see an end made of the coal and railroad strikes. They are getting tired of hearing about what the railroad executives and employees the mine owners and the mine workers are about to do or going to do next week or at some other future time. These controversies should be brought to some sort of a conclusion.

The miners' organization has millions of dollars in its treasury. When the miners are at work they earn high wages. Why wouldn't it be a good plan for the mine officers and workers to outline a plan whereby they would become the owners of the mining properties? If they both owned and operated the mines things would run smoothly. The plan is not impossible from a financial standpoint if the mine officials and the workers would seriously undertake the project.

WHAT BORES YOU?

Years from now, when young men of today will be white haired and hobbling about on canes, their piping voices will interrupt the conversation in the airplane with this:

"I mind the time just like it was yesterday, back there in 1922 when Bell, the inventor of the telephone, died. Strangest part of it all was that in his last years he didn't have any phone in his own house. Said it was a nuisance."

That will interest people of the future more than any other fact about the great inventor, just as it has recently been causing the most talk.

And yet it is a very simple piece of psychology.

A clerk in a candy store soon gets "sick of the sight of it."

The housewife, though she loves the furnishings of her home, often becomes bored almost beyond endurance by the sight of the ever-present broom and dishpan.

Small wonder that Bell became bored and annoyed by the telephone after devoting most of his long life to it.

It corresponds to you, starting jabbering on a task, but coming down the home stretch with: "If I ever finish this up, I'll never tackle another one."

All animal life is more or less contented with routine existence. The difference between it and man is that man alone has the nervous temperament, forever seeking a change, tiring of the old, laboring for the thrill of the new.

This nervousness is what has made man develop into civilization while animal life has plodded along mechanically, without material improvement or progress.

In each of us there is a mysterious something that demands contrast in life, to keep us normal and progressing.

Physically, emotionally and mentally we react from the thrills of intense activity to a languid torpor.

Work like a heaver, when you're working. When you quit work, forget it—if you can. Concentration is a fine asset, but only in its place. If life bores you, it is your own fault. The remedy is simple—cast about for diversions that will give you contrast. And be thankful for sorrows and set-backs. Without them, for contrast, all pleasures and successes would become bore-some.

THE NEED FOR OBEDIENCE

Vice President Coolidge recently pointed out that one of the great needs of this country is obedience to law. He said:

"There is a principle in our economic life that needs some what more emphasis. Long ago James Otis declared that kings were made for the good of the people and not the people for them. It needs also to be remembered that that people are not created for the benefit of industry, but industry is created for the benefit of the people. Those who are employed in it are its chief beneficiaries. Those who have acquired capital provide the plant and machinery for the workmen. Those who have acquired skill in organization provide the management for the workmen."

"The manager secures the raw materials and markets the product. Capital and management perform this great service for the benefit of the workman. He performs a corresponding service for them. Unto each who contributes in accordance with his ability there is due equal consideration and equal honor. There is no degradation in industry. It is a worthy enterprise, ennobling all who contribute to it. It will be successful in accordance with the opportunity given for the development of all the power of mankind and of the acceptance of the obligation alike to rule and to obey."

"The disappointment which has been experienced, at first thought, in the increase of power, whether of wealth or place, has resulted from the expectation that it would bring relief from the necessity of obedience. Neither political nor industrial democracy can relieve mankind from the requirement of obedience. There is no substitute for virtue. Too much emphasis has been put on the desire to rule and too little on the obligation to obey. More and more all social problems must be worked out in accordance with this principle. An obedient nation would possess supreme power. The law of life, the law of progress, is the law of obedience, the law of service."

"Whoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; and whoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant."

SENDS FOR FISHING MACHINERY FOR WELL

Workmen spent all day Thursday trying to draw the casing from the oil well being drilled on the Mahon farm northeast of the city. Their efforts were unsuccessful, however and the work was given up with the tools at hand.

Last night Mr. Rhodes announced that he had sent to Lawrenceville for fishing machinery to draw the casing. As soon as it arrives it will be used in an effort to draw the casing. Failing in this Mr. Rhodes said the well would be shot anyway.

Speaking of rumors current of local men having money invested in the present project, Mr. Rhodes said for every dollar of local money invested he would match it with $5,000 of his own money.

A varied program was given at the regular luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Peacock Inn Thursday. Felix E. Farrell president and the attendance prize of the day was awarded to Dr. Gurn Norbury. Among the guests were Dr. F. M. Rule, Walter W. Wright and Stanley Wright.

SCHOOL TEACHERS SALARIES INCREASED

Illinois Teachers to Have Slight Increase in Pay This Year—Small Cities Tend Toward Reduction.

CARLINVILLE, Ill.—School teachers' salaries for the coming year in Illinois will be slightly increased as indicated by contracts now being signed by school boards throughout the state.

A few communities have made slight reductions, but the state on the whole shows that either most districts have increased the pay or maintained it at last year's level.

The tendency toward reduction is mostly in small cities, villages and rural districts, according to Robert C. Moore of this city, secretary of the Illinois State Teachers' Association. The penalty for this reduction, Mr. Moore states, has been the loss of good teachers which will mean lowered school efficiency.

"Society at present is making higher and higher demands upon schools and the teachers," said Mr. Moore, "and progressive, wide-awake communities are responding by building up a strong, efficient teaching force. Therefore, there is a constant flow of the more efficient teachers from the background, penurious communities of the progressive, liberal communities. This movement is accompanied by a movement of many of the bright, energetic and ambitious young people toward the liveliest communities where the educational opportunities are good. So most communities are learning that it is necessary to keep up a good school to preserve the real life of the community. Therefore, most districts in Illinois are continuing their salary scale or increasing it."

"And why shouldn't they? The very existence of a government like ours depends upon the general diffusion of knowledge and trained intelligence among the people. Our complex modern society with its intricate and intertwined social, industrial, economic and political problems demands a higher and higher degree of education and morality generally diffused among the people; and the quantity and kind of education now required can be given only by mature trained teachers, whose training and experience has cost much time and money and whose work is worth more than they have ever received."

America of Tomorrow depends upon the kind of teachers and schools we have today. The live, red blooded, ambitious boys and girls of America deserve intelligent, spiritual, well-trained teachers, who are strong, courageous, cultured, energetic, well-fell men and women. But this kind of manhood and womanhood can not thrive on scanty wages. This country is fabulously rich, and wealth is being produced or can be produced at a rapid rate. Billions of dollars are spent for luxuries and millions for follies. Therefore, it is absurd to say that Illinois cannot afford to keep its teachers' salary scale, when good teaching is admitted to be of vital importance to the production of wealth and to the welfare and happiness of the people.

"Chicago is a notable example of increased salaries. The city levied and collected nearly $13,000,000 more in school funds last year than ever before; but the board of education was slow in offering the teachers any increase. Finally certain questionable irregularities in the business methods of the board became so noticeable that the states attorney and grand jury began an investigation. Most of the teachers did all in their power to promote this investigation and to prevent any waste, embezzlement or other loss of school funds. The results have been several indictments by the grand jury, the appointment of several new members of the board and reorganization of the board, and the addition of over $4,000,000 to the teachers' salary fund. Therefore, the state as a whole will probably pay more in salaries next year than ever before."

—to Help Your Hens Over the Moulting Season

Now is the time to prepare your hens for big egg production during the fall and winter months. Don't let them linger along from four to six months moulting. Get them through the moult QUICK, because a moulting hen is an expense instead of a producer. Every day counts and the feeding method you employ now determines the profits biddy will produce for you later on.

Try the FUL-O-PEP Way

The best known feeding method during the moulting season, is half FUL-O-PEP DRY MASH and half FUL-O-PEP GROWING MASH. Keep it before your hens all the time and you will be agreeably surprised how quickly they will finish moulting and be back on the nests, shelling out the eggs in large numbers.

FUL-O-PEP POULTRY FEEDS

enable poultry raisers to get results from poultry that at one time were considered impossible. Ful-O-Pep Growing Mash for growing birds enables you to produce big healthy, early laying pullets at less cost than any feed known. Keep it before the growing stock all the time—don't stop feeding it until pullets are six months old. Then feed Ful-O-Pep Dry Mash—the feed that makes more eggs all the year round. These feeds have opened the door of opportunity to poultry raisers. Poultrymen everywhere are getting real results from these guaranteed feeds. Feed the Ful-O-Pep Way and your success with poultry is assured.

The famous Ful-O-Pep line of poultry feeds was originated and is produced by The Quaker Oats Company, Address Chicago, U. S. A., the largest manufacturers of Poultry feed in the world.

REPRESENTATIVE OF JOHN L. LEWIS MEETS ILLINOIS OPERATORS

In Conference With Them Yesterday at Toledo, Ohio

(By The Associated Press)
TOLEDO, Aug. 10.—Illinois miners' representatives and operators held a conference today with a representative of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers in an effort to arrive at an understanding relative to the big conference of operators and miners at Cleveland now in session.

W. A. Glasgow, Philadelphia was the spokesman for the union miners and it is understood that Dr. C. F. Honnold, secretary of one of the associations in Illinois and W. K. Kavanaugh, president of another, were represented at the meeting.

An effort to make a separate settlement in the case the conference at Cleveland breaks up with no result is said to have been the object of the conference.

The conferees checked out late today. The Illinois operators believe that Frank Farrington, district chairman may hold the key to a settlement with them and it is known that many Ohio operators are favorable to Farrington and look to him for a working arrangement which will open up the mines.

Before leaving the city Mr. Glasgow would not admit that there had been a conference here. No details of the Illinois plan could be learned from the conferees here.

STRIKING SHOPMEN

ALLEGED MOLESTATION
Galesburg, Ill.—Striking shopmen here are complaining that they are being molested by officials and members of the supervisory forces of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. The strikers maintain that representatives of the railroad have stopped them on the streets and have visited their homes with alleged purpose of annoying and intimidating the strikers into returning to work. Resolutions objecting to this alleged proceeding have been sent to each of the local officials of the road.

Gene Doyle came up to the city from Winchester yesterday.

PROBE OF GREATER OIL COMPANIES IS TO BE UNDERTAKEN

Senate Committee Would Get at Bottom of Gasoline Prices

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Decision to call for officials of many of the greater oil companies who can "talk about the inside of the oil industry" was reached today by acting Chairman McNary of the senate manufacturer's committee as the next step in the senate investigation of the gasoline price situation.

Senator McNary said he was determined to have relevant facts instead of side issues in the committee record. The investigation would show, Senator McNary said, whether there is actual competition, for instance, among the units of the Standard Oil group. He believed also, he added, that the question of whether there is "an understanding of what amounts to an understanding" between selling companies as to "artificial gasoline prices shall perform."

The committee has heard in the past four days R. L. Wedch, secretary of the American Petroleum Institute and John D. Clark, vice president of the Mid-West Refining company. Both gave testimony which the chairman said he regarded as "highly interesting and frankly offered," but stated that it did not "get anywhere in the committee's plan."

Consequently, the committee adjourned today to meet again "probably early next week when it is proposed to call witnesses from the ranks of high oil company officials. In addition to the subjects mentioned, Senator McNary explained that the committee would inquire into the makeup of the big companies, the names and natures of their subsidiaries, their capital, net returns and overhead expenses, the personnel and salaries of the directorates and details as to trade practices. He declared it was common report that some producers holding near-monopolies on small fields had resorted to churning wells in order that the production could be held down and the market "buoyed."

SHOW INCREASE IN COAL PRODUCTION

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 10.—A total of 119,000 tons of coal, 24,700 tons more than for the corresponding week of last year, were produced in southeastern Kentucky and Tennessee fields during the past week, according to a statement issued by the Southern Appalachian Coal Operators' association today.

SANTA FE TRAIN MEN QUIT WORK

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Members of the engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen brotherhoods on several far west ern divisions of the Santa Fe line notified railroad officials today that they would no longer move trains thru points where armed guards were employed on railroad property. Within an hour trains were reported tied up at Seligman, Ariz., and Barstow and Needles, Calif., one of them being the eastbound California Limited. Trains continue to move out of here on schedule but railroad officials said they could not forecast for how long.

Railroad officials and officers of the four brotherhoods conferred tonight on means of settling the differences.

From Bakersfield, Calif., it was reported that no trains were moving east over the road's lines and brotherhood men there were quoted as saying they had given the railroad 24 hours within which to remove armed guards.

TWENTY FIVE WALK OUT AT MOBERLY

MOBERLY, Mo., Aug. 10.—About 25 railroad switchmen and stationary firemen employed by the Wabash walked out this morning when the national guardsmen extended their lines, but returned this afternoon pending advice from grand officers of the Order of Railway Trainmen.

The national guardsmen have been patrolling only the shops but recently the lines were extended out over the yards where the switchmen work. The men declared the presence of the guards as close to them endangered their lives saying they would be in the path of fire should any shooting occur.

The grievance of the men will be sent to the grand officers immediately it was said. The men declare the railroad management and national guard officers violated their agreement by extending the lines. No reason was given for extending the lines.

Service on Wabash trains passing thru here was tied up for five hours as a result of the walkout. Number 20 from Minneapolis arrived at 9:04 a. m., and No. 2 from Kansas City at 1:50 p. m. These two trains were combined when the men returned to work at 2:45 p. m., and proceeded to St. Louis. No. 3 enroute to Kansas City from St. Louis was tied up several hours.

Colonel Mayberry in charge of the troops stated the men evidenced no antagonism against the guardsmen when they walked out.

Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Donnell of Winchester were arrivals in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Bergschneider of Alexander were city callers yesterday.

A LETTER FROM NEW ENGLAND

It has been truly said "He that brings home the wealth of India must carry the wealth of India with him." No number of miles, no distance, no climate to which I wander but what I carry the thoughts of those I leave behind. But what I give to the stranger along the pathway.

The message of the lessons I received in dear old Jacksonville. A few days passed in the Lafayette hotel in Portland, Maine. An "auto" tourist in talking with a Portland man said "Yes, your elms are beautiful; you have a beautiful city. In my trip across from California the most beautiful elm trees I have seen were in a little college town, Jacksonville, Illinois. And by the way, a wonderful little city, a combination of Southern hospitality, Western push and Eastern shrewdness."

"After a few hour spent under the shade of those wonderful elms I am not surprised of the sons and daughters she has given to the world—governors, teachers, missionaries, statesmen—among them William J. Bryan."

How proudly I said "Thank you, sir; I am a daughter of the 'Athens of the West' or as you term it 'The City of Elms.'"

This morning as I look out over the Atlantic ocean, in memory I go back the weeks since I left "The City of Elms" last January. The year's work has taken me from historic New Orleans to the far northern coast of Maine. As I travel our great nation over I think the average American does not have the opportunity to realize the resources and greatness of our nation.

After a few weeks of service spent in Washington, D.C., the city where one rubs shoulders with folks from the ends of the world, where your work brings you in touch daily with the men and women who are the leaders of this great nation as well as leaders of the world, I was transferred to historic old Boston, with her crooked old streets, her old buildings—not the Boston of the cow trail or Revolutionary days. The only reminders of those days are the Bunker Hill monument, the old South church, the old state house, &c., the unlimited old land marks, for the Boston of today is alive with the foreign tongues. Some days you wonder if this is not the Tower of Babel. On looking at the great institutions of learning, the home of Longfellow and the village smith, on old Trinity church and others, you realize that this is indeed the landing country of the Mayflower in 1620.

One of the scenes I most enjoyed was Haverhill, Mass. At the edge of this busy city of manufactures is the little farm, the birthplace of John G. Whittier, our Quaker poet. You realize you are indeed in Whittier land. Here, nestled underneath the shade of the birch trees, you catch a view of the old Whittier homestead built in the seventeenth century by Thomas Whittier, the ancestor of our Quaker

Trousers

Why not get an extra pair of trousers to finish out the season. We are going to make big reductions on our line of Trousers and would ask you to see our Prices in the East Window.

T. M. Tomlinson

poet. Every line of his descriptive poems, "Snowbound" and "Barefoot Boy," rushes through your memory. Here is the old barn across the road; the old stepping stone near the door; the old well sweep in the rear; the old fashioned garden with the stone fence, vine covered; the little brook flowing on to the sea, along the border of which the ferns, buttercups and daisies smile up to you. Again, when you recall the lines of "Snowbound," you can realize the quiet home life and the hardships "sturdily overcome or cheerfully endured, the bleak winters he lived as a child in the valley of the Meramack. The furnishing of the home is today as it was when the Quaker poet was a boy—the old cedar is there; the old school open fire place with the cooking utensils; the huge rug that held desk, the school books and many other things, all far more interesting than Amesbury where he lived and died and is buried.

Here in Haverhill lived Hannah Dustin, who was captured by the Indians in 1667, and on March 20, 1697, with the aid of a mere boy slayed her captors at Connecticut island and escaped. In one of the principal parks a beautiful monument is erected to her memory.

THING TO LOCATE

CODY'S BIRTHPLACE
Davenport, Ia.—"Buffalo Bill" Cody's birthplace has become a subject of official investigation by the Davenport Chamber of Commerce.

The inquiry is due to efforts of the municipality to induce the Brotherhood of American Yeomen to locate in this vicinity the fraternal society's $10,000,000 home for motherless and fatherless children.

An old frame house on the White Hall farm near LeClaire has been known for years as Cody's birthplace. The farm is a part of a tract of several thousand acres lying along the Mississippi river which the Chamber of Commerce has optioned and offered to the Yeomen as a site for the home.

The Yeomen, it is said, were keenly interested because of the associations of the house with the celebrated scout and Indian fighter. Certain older residents of the countryside, however, say "Buffalo Bill" was born in a log cabin in that may have stood in the general neighborhood of the farm house but has long since disappeared.

The inquiry however is causing considerable interest, for regardless of its effect on the location of the orphanage, it is expected to settle the question of the exact birthplace of the famous plains man.

Come, See the Western Electric Dishwasher and Kitchen Table

Another Item of Household Drudgery Eliminated

We have the electric washer, the sweeper, the toaster, and a dozen other labor savers in the home, and now—the dishwasher.

Of all the household tasks a woman has to do, none does she dislike more than that of dishwashing—it's a mean, slavish, disagreeable work—three times a day, no matter the weather, no matter how she feels, dip, dip, dip, into hot, greasy dishwater. But, now all this is eliminated in the home—ten to fifteen minutes does the trick, in a clean, pleasant manner.

Here's How it Operates

First, the lower rack in the dishwasher is filled with plates, saucers and platters. The silverware is also placed in the proper compartments.

The upper rack is then put into the dishwasher, and cups, pitchers, and glasses are placed in it.

When all the dishes are in place a tea kettle or an eight-quart bucket full of hot water in which a tablespoonful of washing powder has been put, is poured into the dishwasher and the lid is closed.

The motor is then switched on. This turns the paddle wheel which throws the water at great speed over and around every article, thoroughly cleaning all sides of dishes and silverware.

In eight minutes the dishes have been washed and are ready for rinsing. The water in the dishwasher is then drawn off and another eight quarts of boiling water for rinsing is poured in.

In three minutes, the dishes are rinsed and the motor is turned off.

It is only necessary to dry the silverware and glasses, which must be polished with a dry towel. By the time this is done, the china has dried of its own accord and is ready to be placed in the china closet.

The dishwasher cleanses itself, because the same water that rinses the dishes also rinses out the machine.

This dishwashing has taken only 12 to 15 minutes, with practically no work on the part of the housewife and with no dipping of hands into hot greasy dishwater.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE IN FIGHT AGAINST T. B.

Statements Quoted from Sessions of National Tuberculosis Association—Jacksonville Has a Proud Record.

The Journal of Outdoor Life, the official organ of the National Tuberculosis Association, in the current issue has an editorial under the caption, "A Winning Fight." It emphasizes the tremendous advances that have been made in combatting tuberculosis in a few years' time. It mentions that national, state and local tuberculosis associations have been great factors in bringing about results. It is a source of satisfaction to Jacksonville people to recall that it was in 1905 that the Jacksonville association joined with the national organization in the fight against tuberculosis.

The editorial reads as follows: "Three significant statements were made at the annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association which may in themselves form a text for editorial comment.

The first statement by Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, pointed out that the death rate from tuberculosis in the United States has been cut in half since the association was formed and that at the present time this cut indicates the saving of approximately 40,000 human lives annually.

The second statement by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, former president of the association, and Dr. Livingston Farrand, formerly executive secretary and now president of Cornell University, pointed out that the general death rate in the United States during the last thirty years had been reduced from 20 to 13 per thousand; and, more significant still, that by the application of continuous scientific research and methods it can be cut to at least 7. The present reduction in the general death rate means a saving of 700,000 lives a year, and the possible additional saving resulting from the further cut would mean 600,000 more lives saved.

The third statement was made by Honorable Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state for the United States. He pointed out that the national, state and local tuberculosis associations representing the voluntary health agency group have been the most influential factor in this great reduction of the death rate.

"The fight for health is a winning fight. Twenty five years ago few people would have ventured a prediction regarding the present death rate from tuberculosis. Tuberculosis was commonly considered at that time a visitation of Providence. As Secretary Hughes points out, it is not that, but rather a dispensation of evil, an evil which can be stopped."

K. OF C. PICNIC EVENT DREW GREAT THRONGS

Arrangements All of Kind to Make For Successful Event—Program Lasted Thru Day and Evening.

The Knights of Columbus picnic held on the grounds of the Jacksonville State hospital Thursday was a wonderful successful event. About 2,000 people attended and the numerous workers representing the organization were busy throughout the entire day. Burgoo soup and fried chicken were the features of the menu, but there was an abundance of other good things offered.

Patronage came not only from Jacksonville and Morgan county but also from surrounding towns. For the dancing in the afternoon Large's orchestra furnished the music and at night the Dunlap orchestra, Martin & Powers furnished a tight wire vaudeville act and there were several other vaudeville stunts.

The band from the Alamo carnival gave a program in the afternoon and Miss Marie Elsemann sang a group of songs with great acceptance. The doll buggy parade in which sixteen little girls passed before the judges with handsomely decorated baby cabs was one of the features that attracted special interest. Prizes were awarded as follows:

First—Dorothy Ranes. Second—Lottie Curtin. Third—Bernice Nichols. Fourth—Lucille O'Donnell.

All of the children were given favorable mention and the others who entered the contest were Dorothy Curtin, Mary Helen McGinnis, Betty Vasconcellos, Frances Steer, Marian Cowgar, Dorothy Richards, Mary, Helen and Margaret Josephine Johnson; Rose Steer, Elizabeth Pieper, Bernice Virgin and Charlotte Powers. In various contests the results were as follows:

50 yard dash—boys under twelve: First, J. Gillespie. Second, Norman Goheen. 100 yard dash—boys over twelve: First, Arthur Large. Second, Ivan Grimm. 25 yard dash—girls under twelve: First, Margaret Massey. Second, Bernice Samples. 50 yard dash—girls over twelve: First, Katherine Clancy. Second, Marie Eaton. Cracker eating contest: Harry Forman. Nail driving contest: First, Mrs. William Beaver; second, Mrs. Guyfield.

The tug of war between a Knights of Columbus team and a picked team was won by the Knights. The contests were under the direction of Carl Hamilton. The picnic was in every way a success and there were hundreds of workers to make it so. The general chairman, John W. Clay, last night expressed great appreciation of the courtesy extended by Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill in arranging for the picnic on the hospital grounds.

CHECK FORGER IS IN PENITENTIARY

P. J. Ryan Who Gave Several Forged Checks on Jobst and Son Here Is in Prison at Michigan City — Is Much Wanted Man.

Chief of Police Frank Kiloran received word yesterday from the warden of the Indiana State penitentiary located at Michigan City that the man who was known here as P. J. Ryan was in the penitentiary there on the charge of forgery.

Ryan who was sent to the penitentiary at Michigan City from Wayne county, Indiana, on a forgery charge, is booked at the prison as John Murphy, alias Frank Moss and has quite a prison record. According to the information furnished Chief Kiloran by the warden, Murphy was first convicted on a rape charge and sentenced to from one to 25 years.

He was pardoned and discharged after serving several years. His next visit to the penitentiary was in 1914 when he was convicted of giving fraudulent checks. He was paroled in December 31, 1915 and returned to prison on March 13, 1919 for violating his parole. He was again paroled March 25, 1921 and discharged April 7, 1922.

It was during the period between his parole and discharge in 1921 that Murphy, known here as P. J. Ryan, gave the checks in this city. He posed here to some people as foreman of the contractors, Jobst and Son, of Peoria, who built the addition to Our Savior's hospital.

Ryan loafed around a number of business places here and became well acquainted with the proprietors and other residents. On the day that he gave the checks he purchased towels in two different hardware houses. One of these he left at the billiard parlors of Schumm and Longman.

The checks were given by Ryan late Saturday afternoon and evening after the banks had closed and their worthlessness was not known until Monday. Chief Kiloran said Ryan gave ten checks for $24 each and one for $50.

FORGER THROU IN HIS WORK

The forger was thro in his work. He secured a Jobst and Son check and took it to Len Magill's job office and had some printed. These he used in passing out his forgeries.

Ryan was tripped up the last time when he was preparing to carry out a forgery in Indiana. He secured a check of a Kokomo Construction company which was erecting a building in a city in Wayne county. Taking it to a printing office he ordered some printed. However, he failed to give the serial number and the printer telephoned to the firm's office for instructions. Not having ordered any checks the firm immediately reported the matter to the police and Ryan was nabbed when he returned for his checks.

Chief Kiloran had been unable to get a trace of Ryan, as he was known here, until recently. Then he received a tip and wrote to the warden of the Michigan City prison. He received the prison record of Ryan alias Murphy alias Moss. A picture of the prisoner was sent and Chief Kiloran and several merchants recognized the likeness as that of Ryan.

However, the warden wrote that the prisoner is wanted in many parts of Indiana so that it is unlikely that local authorities will be able to get him back here to answer the local charge. The prison records give the prisoner's age as 60 years and occupation as bricklayer. As his last sentence was from one to twelve years, and it is not likely he will be shown further leniency, the chances are that he will be his last prison sentence.

SERIOUS LOSS IN FRUIT CROP

Lack of Transportation Is Cause—Centralia Firm of Peach Growers Will Require Sixty Cars to Move Their Crop.

Springfield, Ill.—(By The Associated Press.)—Illinois' great fruit crop, said to be the largest in years, will suffer serious losses because of lack of transportation facilities, according to H. E.

Young, secretary of the State Farmers' Institute.

Thus far, he said, carload shipments have fared moderately well, but smaller shipments are not going to market at all. This of course, refers at this time to apples, of which there are vast quantities waiting to be shipped, especially in Southern Illinois.

The real losses will occur, said Mr. Young, when peaches begin to ripen, because the peach must be picked and shipped shortly after it ripens.

Perrine Brothers of Centralia, said to be the largest peach growers in Illinois, alone will require about 60 cars to move their crop this year. For the last crop they used 35 cars, and this difference in the need of transportation facilities for only one grower is, in the opinion of Mr. Young, a true measure of the greatly increased yield this year.

"Even if the mines should go to work and the full equipment of the railroads should start moving immediately, I don't see how serious losses in the fruit crop can be averted," declared Mr. Young. "Thousands of barrels of apples are now waiting to be moved. They can stand delays and hard usage much better than peaches. In this crop the prospects are that much of the great fruit yield will rot on the trees and that the prices may be as high as the we didn't have a banner year. Of course, I may be mistaken, but this is my opinion after a visit to the fruit country and a survey of conditions."

In counties where the fruit was sold to commission men on the trees, the losses of course, will fall on the commission men. This situation exists quite generally in Calhoun county, where it is the custom to sell the crop on the trees.

TAKE ALONG A BOOK

Haldeman, I. M. Can the dead communicate with the living? This author discusses this question and many related questions in a really brilliant and fascinating way. He strongly condemns spiritualism and its cultivation and practice and tries to awaken everyone to its perils. It is an eye-opening book written from a Biblical standpoint by a minister. Get it at the Public Library.

Peabody, Frederick W. Religious-medical masquerade: a complete exposure of Christian Science. This book was written by a man who knew Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy.

Archbald, Hugh. The four hour day in coal. The author, writing from his twenty years' experience as an engineer in coal mines, gives a vivid picture of the conditions under which coal is dug. He shows why the miner is able to get into the mines only two to four days a week; why, when he gets in, he can average only three to four hours' work, paying work, a day. He shows how these conditions affect the price of coal as well as thousands of commodities that are manufactured with the aid of coal. He asserts that strikes are not caused by pure human "greediness" as many think, but says the fundamental cause of strikes has been the same for a generation and will continue as long as the underground operations are run as they are. This book furnishes a new viewpoint at this critical time that the general public should be familiar with. Get it at the Public Library.

One dose often helps commence to enrich your blood and revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves—Nuxated Iron is a newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach. It is so prepared that it will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. It is ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood while some physicians claim metallic iron which people usually take is not absorbed at all. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron—three times per day, after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. DAVIS-KUMLE SUIT DECIDED SATURDAY

Case at Justice Bayha's Court Draws Large Crowd—Suit for Wages.

In the suit for wages against Harry Kumle by Charles Davis, both of Alexander, Justice Bayha ordered both attorneys to appear in court Saturday morning, when the decision would be handed down. The case was brought here from Alexander, and the of a minor nature has attracted a great deal of attention. Hugh Green represented the defendant in court and Walter Wright presented the argument for the plaintiff.

The suit started over wages, which Davis claimed was owed him by Kumle for cutting hedge. He asked for $12.50, the amount being claimed exorbitant by the defense for a settlement with a reasonable wage of $2.00 for a day and a half and two hours. The defense asked payment by the rod, with attorney fees.

PONTIAC PLAYS INDEES TODAY

Strong Team Plays Here Today—Personnel Made up of Former League Players.

Local fans will have an opportunity to see one of the strongest teams in the state outside of league baseball when the Pontiac Athletics appear here this afternoon in a game with the Indees.

Pontiac has a team of all salaried men, most of them former big leaguers. The team plays with all of the Chicago city league teams and down state teams such as Aurora, the Illinois Watches and teams of like calibre.

Last Sunday the Pontiac team played with Rube Foster's American Giants in Chicago, losing by a score of 6 to 3. Beckwith's two homers for the Giants was the main cause of Pontiac's defeat.

The game this afternoon will be called at 3:30 o'clock and if the weather is favorable there should be a large crowd out to see the game. While the visitors are a strong team if the Indees are in form and Pryman is right they should give the visitors a strong run for their money. The teams will line up as follows:

Pontiac: Nicholson, lf; Burke, 3b; Donica, ss; Silcott, 2b; Schoonover, cf; Nagle, rf; Roche, 1b; Blackburn, c; Schinuel, Johnson, Marshall, Fogarty, p; LeWise, utility.

Indees: Denney, ss; Wheeler, 1b; Kohloff, 2b; Clark, c; Christopher, lf; Fanning, cf; DeFrates, 3b; Hamm, rf; Fryman, Zell, p; Smith, utility.

BIG SIX VISITS OLD HOME TOWN

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 10.—Christy Mathewson former star pitcher of the New York Giants is spending a few days at the home of his boyhood, the little town of Factoryville, 20 miles west of Scranton. He was given a great reception by his townsmen.

"Big Six" has been at Saranac Lake, N. Y., for two years seeking a cure for an affection of the lungs. He made the trip of 265 miles by motor, which he said was a good indication that he was getting back to his old time physical form.

"Are you going back into the game?" Mathewson was asked today.

"I haven't given it a thought. I am concentrating on getting well first and when that time comes I will decide what I'll do," he said.

RICHARDS TO MEET S. KASHIO

THE NUT BROTHERS (CHES & WAL)

WAS THAT A GOOD GAME OF POKER LAST NIGHT?

WELL—THE DEUCES WERE WILD ABOUT IT

For 20 Years, Johnny Evers of the Chicago White Sox is one of the brainiest players in the history of the game. Evers has been watch-major league baseball for 20 years.

During the first few weeks of the American League season the Cleveland club was getting pretty good pitching and playing the up-down baseball for which the club is noted.

After a month or so of play the club shifted its style to a more extreme in order to overcome the runs made by the opposition because of inferior pitching.

Playing Smart Ball. Getting back to the inside stuff. One of the big reasons why the Chicago White Sox are winning is because the team is playing smart baseball.

Back of the bat Ray Schalk is catching in his customary brilliant style. His heady coaching has done much to develop the three recruit pitchers, Leverette, Plankenship and Robertson. He has steadied Ferdie Schupp, noted for his tendency to be wild. Likewise he has smoothed the rough spots in the pitching of Hodge.

Chicago is getting good pitching. Much of the good pitching is inspired by the brainy Schalk.

In the infield Eddie Collins is handling the situation. On paper the Sox infield may not stand out as some of the other major league clubs, but no infield is playing better ball. Collins is the mastermind.

In the outfield Harry Hooper is the balance wheel for the two clever youngsters, Falk and Moe. Hooper is a smart ball player.

Red Faber, pitching in the greatest form of his career, is the ace of the White Sox staff, always ready to save the day.

On the coaching lines Gleason and Evers are a combination that is unexcelled in the majors. Gleason supplies the confidence and advice. Evers the fight and "popper."

There you have a number of reasons why Chicago, picked to be last by many of the experts, is upsetting the dope in the American League. The directing hands are smart ball players.

MURRAYVILLE WINS FROM CHAPIN TEAM

Defeated Opponent at Baptist Picnic by Score of 5 to 2—Fanning Good in Pitching.

Murrayville, Aug. 10.—Murrayville defeated Chapin in the game played here this afternoon as one of the features of the Baptist church picnic by a score of 5 to 2. The game was well played and exciting thruout, both teams doing some excellent fielding. Each team was credited with two errors during the contest.

Ira Fanning pitched a good game for Murrayville. While the Chapin batsmen made ten hits off his delivery he did not extend himself except when men got on the sacks. Then he tightened and held the visitors safe. In addition to pitching a good game Fanning also delivered three safe hits and scored one run. The score:

KNIGHTS WON GAME FROM DOKAYS 10-7

Was an Exciting Contest Marked By Heavy Hitting—Six Home Runs Made—Dokays Get Four.

In a game marked by heavy hitting the Knights of Columbus defeated the Dokays in the game played at the K. C. picnic on the state hospital diamond yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 7.

The contest was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 2,500 people and much enthusiasm prevailed thruout the contest as the fortunes of battle swung first to one team and then to the other.

Justice and R. Zell both pitched good ball and were given excellent support back of the bat. Justice struck out eight and walked two while R. Zell struck out five and walked two. Each team made five errors which figured in the scoring. However, when it is considered the way both teams hit the ball it is remarkable that the error column was not larger.

Six home runs were made during the game. Four of these went to the Dokays and two to the Knights. The hitting of Reeve featured the game. He got a single, double and two homers in five trips to the plate. The score:

Red Tape Forces Wife to Travel Extra 6000 Miles to Enter U. S.

Mrs. Remi Carton and Her Son, Frank.

Again red tape has clashed with human kindness in the administration of the "quota" immigration laws.

And red tape has triumphed—with a triple result:

One: The young wife of a Belgian resident of Chicago, who has filed his declaration to become an American citizen, is being forced to make an extra 6,000-mile round trip to Europe in order to gain admittance to the United States for her eight-year old son.

Two: The husband, already crushed by the ruin of war in Belgium and struggling for a new start in America, is forced to bear the expense of the 6,000 mile trip and to postpone the reunion with wife and child on which his heart was set.

Three: Official Washington is aroused. Whatever their attitude on the merits of the "quota" immigration laws may be, legislators are preparing to demand that their enforcement be tempered by reason and kindness and that more emphasis be laid on the spirit of the regulations than on their letter.

By ALEXANDER HERMAN
NEW YORK.—To cover the hundred yards from the detention room here to the New York ferry, a young Belgian woman and her eight year old son have been forced to take an extra 6,000 mile trip to Europe and back.

All because they arrived three and a half hours ahead of schedule!

And the immigration authorities could find no way of cutting the red tape which barred them!

So another chapter of sorrow was added to the tragedy of a young family which had been rent apart in the aftermath of the war.

With his business wiped out by war Remi Carton left Belgium, came to this country and settled in Chicago. He declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States.

His wife came with them but they had to leave their boy behind with relatives.

They worked hard and prospered. When they had $2,000 in the family bank account, they decided to get their boy.

Goos For Son.
Mrs. Carton went for him. Being a resident of this country, she knew she could be readmitted here without trouble. But she didn't know about the restrictions governing the admittance of her son. She started to return in June.

The Belgian immigration quota for the fiscal year ending June 30 had been filled.

Mrs. Carton was advised to postpone her return until the next sailing. This ship was not due in New York until July 1.

But the boat was fast and the weather good so the mother and boy reached port several hours before they expected. The authorities decided that the youngster could not be admitted for the quota had been filled.

But couldn't they forget that he arrived three and one half hours too soon and consider him as a July arrival? The mother argued with officials.

Case Goes to Washington.
They took it up with the immigration inspectors. The case was carried to a board of review in Washington. A month went by.

The boy had to go back. He could return on the same boat and apply for admittance under the new quota but he had to go back.

"It's hard to be so near—and yet so far," sighed Mrs. Carton when she heard the final decision. "I can't understand a law that makes us travel thousands of miles to come back to the same place a little later."

Back to Europe.

So she packed up, took the fastest boat out and expects soon to come back. Today she is at sea.

But if the return trip is delayed and Belgium's quota of 813 a month is filled before they reach port again they may have to make the trip across a third time!

"On the 28th of last month," says Harry R. Landis, assistant commissioner of immigration here, "there were only 24 Belgians admissible before the allotment was filled."

"So Mrs. Carton and her son would better hurry back."

is the label used to distinguish none but the best of Illinois fruits. Car lot shipments will be made to county farm bureaus direct and smaller shipments will be handled by local units of the Exchange.

"Illini" peaches will be of the best flavored peaches to be found anywhere. They will be graded according to U. S. regulations and will be packed ring-faced. Car lot shipments will be made in ice-refrigerator cars.

Speak at State Picnic.
E. H. Cunningham, president of the reorganized U. S. Grain Growers and secretary of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation, and Senator Harold Keessinger of Aurora, will be the main speakers at the annual state picnic of the Illinois Agricultural Association to be held at Olney, August 23rd.

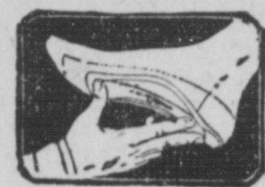

In addition to the speaking, a varied program of sports and music will be given. Illinois state champion's horseshoe pitchers will meet the state champions of Missouri in an interstate two-man team contest, E. S. Torbet and Joseph Heskett of Dewitt county, Illinois, meeting the Beard brothers of Columbia, Mo.

First Car of Rock Phosphate.
E. R. Hembrough of Ashbury ordered the first car of rock phosphate Saturday. He expects to add this to a clover field on which he has been pasturing cattle. The rock phosphate will be applied in connection with manure. The decomposition of the clover and manure will make the phosphate available. While this is the first car ordered this season it is not the first Mr. Hembrough has used.

Bone Meal.
Charles West reports good results from drilling bone meal in wheat, when applications were made as light as 100 pounds per acre. John Andras of Manchester has also used bone meal successfully. It is the element phosphorus in the bone meal that gives the results.

MISS WINTERS WINS MOVIE WORLD HONORS

White Hall Young Women Awarded Trip to California—Rain Needed in Greene County.

White Hall, Aug. 9.—Miss Beatrice Winters, daughter of Mrs. B. G. Winters, who is attending a school of expression in Chicago, recently entered a studio test conducted by a moving picture corporation by submitting her photograph, and among hundreds of others she has just been advised that she is one of the few chosen for a trip to California with all expenses paid for herself and chaperone, together with the expenses of a schooling under the tutelage of the picture concern. She is the first White Hall girl to win such recognition in the movie world, and when more definite information is obtained it is the intention of Manager Lyman, of the Princess, to give her picture on the local scene and some facts concerning her entrance for movie honors.

Mrs. Marie Campbell has sold her millinery business to Mr. Donald Strang.

The mean maximum for the week was 90 and the mean minimum 64.1 degrees. There is no rain in sight at this writing, and pastures in the immediate vicinity of White Hall are drying.

STRENGTH SHOWN IN RAILROAD STOCKS
By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Extraordinary strength of railroad stocks many of which moved to new high ground of the year was the outstanding development in today's stock market session.
Threatened extension of the strike to members of the "Big Four" brotherhoods caused some uneasiness at the start but the effects were easily absorbed and prices held well to the end regardless of "short" attacks, ingredients of which the floating supply of stocks was in strong hands.

Wall Street is counting on the heavy crop and coal movements this fall with the expected increase in general merchandise loadings to offset the temporary effects of strike conditions.

Grangers, such as Northern Pacific, Great Northern preferred, Chicago & Northwestern and Pere Marquette again broke thru peak prices for 1922. International Harvester and Sears-Roebuck also made new high records.
The financial community apparently interpreted the increase in the United States Steel Corporation's unfilled contract during July as being due to curtailed production because of strike conditions rather than to increased business. U. S. Steel common was down ¼ and Independent Steels, notably Crucible and Republic, offered in sympathy. Studebaker and Chandler, favorites of the speculative drooping sold off.
Prospective weakness was shown by Saxon Motors and Willys Overland preferred. Total sales were 575,000 shares.

Call money opened at 4 per cent and was in good demand.
Time money rates were slightly higher. There were few offerings of prime commercial paper which was quoted at 4 to 4½ per cent.

Foreign exchange business was confined largely to transactions of speculators because cable delays prevented the transaction of commercial business. Liberty bonds got off to a good start but sold off slightly at the close.
Total bond sales were $11-431,000.

were 505,000 bushels all to exporters. Vessel room was chartered for 100,000 bushels.

prices were 1½c better. Trading basis was 1½c better. Shipping sales were 622,000 bushels 575,000 bushels to exporters included.

U. S. AIR CHIEF'S DAUGHTER
"PUTS ONE OVER" ON DAD

JANET MOFFETT

By NEA Service.

Washington—If your dad were boss of all sorts of flying outfits, airplanes, seaplanes, dirigibles and blimps, and—

You were just crazy about flying, and—

Your dad because of the regulations and responsibilities surrounding his job, didn't let you go up only once in ever so long—

Wouldn't you like to put a surprise over on him and steal a ride in the sky, without even asking his leave, in a plane over which his horrid regulations had no authority?

Of course you would if the flying fever were as warm in your blood as it is in that of Miss Janet Moffett, daughter of Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, United States Navy.

That's why there was an extra thrill in the light Miss Moffett and her chum, Miss Helen Thompson, daughter of a retired navy captain, took over Washington the other day as guests of a commercial pilot.

Whether someone tipped Moffett off is not recorded. But when the big hydroplane landed at the Anacostia naval base to discharge its two fair passengers the rear admiral was there.

If he had intended any scolding, he quickly changed his mind as the happy girls rushed up to tell him about it.

"I wish he'd done more stunts," was the only plaint of Miss Moffett afterwards. "All we did was to zoom a bit."

"I hope some day to have a plane of my own and to be able to fly it myself. Of course I know it wouldn't seem right for me to fly much in navy planes. But the regulations do seem rather hard when I enjoy it so much."

DR. G. V. BLACK HONORED
IN LONDON CEREMONY

A simple but impressive ceremony accompanied the presentation last week in London of a bust of the late Dr. Greene Vardiman Black to the dental school of the University College Hospital by American Consul General Robert P. Skinner in behalf of Northwestern University. The ceremony was conducted under the auspices of the American University Union.

Dr. Black, who has been called the father of American dentistry, died at his summer home near Jacksonville, Illinois, on August 31, 1915. Since 1891 he had been associated with the dental school of Northwestern, first as Professor of Dental Pathology and later Dean of the dental school and Professor of Operative Dentistry. The steady growth of the dental school under his skillful guidance was but a reflection of his remarkable powers, both as a man and a teacher. At the time of his death, Dr. Abraham W. Harris, corresponding secretary of the board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church, then president of the University, said of him:

"A figure of world-wide importance, he had established an international reputation as a man of science prior to his elevation to the deanship and probably no man in his time did more to advance his profession x x x Recognition of his ability from medical and scientific societies in this country and abroad were numerous. In 1910 he was given an appreciation banquet by the Chicago Odontographic Society which was attended by delegates from the entire United States; in 1912 he was made the initial recipient of the Miller International prize, established by subscription from twenty six different countries. x x x At once friend, teacher, and scholar he was uniquely fitted for his particular field. He built up about him a group of men remarkable for their ability as administrators, teachers and investigators."

A CHARIVARI SEND OFF

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ferguson, newlyweds doubtless thought they were safe from funmakers as they planned to leave the city on the 2:17 a. m. hummer north yesterday morning but their young friends of the sales force of the C. C. Phelps Dry Goods Co., Store and some others along with them didn't think so at all as it would never do to let the young people off in such a quiet manner so they assembled at the Alton station with horns, cans and various kinds of noise producers and let the young couple know they had a lot of fun making friends in Jacksonville. The affair was taken good naturedly by the victims and went off well.

SPADES

We have made a special study of spades for ditching and excavating. For years we have been experimenting—using different grades of steel, different shapes of handles—in an effort to produce a spade light in weight, but strong enough for service and of just the right "hang".

We have learned about spades

Perhaps more than any other merchant, and we know we are telling you nothing but the exact truth when we say that GOLD TIP SPADES are the best that have ever been sold for the purpose for which they are intended.

Ask your dealer for them; there are no others "just as good."
